Report to Google: 20 "Star Bail Bonds of [City]" Business Profiles

Submitted by Chad Conley, Chad Conley Bail Bonds (licensed California bail agent), 1235 W Mission Blvd, Pomona, CA | chad@chadconleybailbonds.com | Evidence captured November 22, 2026

Summary

Twenty Google Business Profiles named "Star Bail Bonds of [City]" appear across California. All 20 link to the same website (starbailbonds.com), all say "Open 24 hours," and none shows an owner, a license number or a suite. Each profile pins a different city. The addresses resolve to a grocery store, a city senior center, an apartment complex, a $7.38 million house, vacant buildings, virtual offices and multi-tenant buildings with no sign of Star. I ask Google to review all 20 together as one network and remove them.

Findings

- The addresses aren't bail offices. Each listing below shows what is at the address, with a public source link.
- No California license under the name. The California Department of Insurance business-name search returns no record for "STAR BAIL." The only "ALL STAR BAIL BONDS" record (#1843345) is inactive (Exhibit X-1; CDI search). California law bars advertising as a bail business without a license (Ins. Code §1800.75).
- Reviewers say the offices aren't there. Ventura: "This company does not exist here, it's an apartment building." Ontario and Lynwood: "Wrong address." A Ventura reviewer calls Star "a lead funnel that sends your information out to several out of town companies."
- The only address the website ever gave is a virtual office. The February 2025 archived site listed one address, 10080 N Wolfe Rd SW3-200, Cupertino, which is a Pacific Workplaces virtual office (archived site). The domain was re-registered August 30, 2024, with the owner hidden (registry record).
- No bonds filed under the name. The Santa Clara and San Francisco courts post every bail bond filed each month. About 3,350 bonds were reviewed, and none was filed under "Star" or "All Star" (Santa Clara; San Francisco).
- The website is currently down. starbailbonds.com returned HTTP 502 on November 22, 2026.

Google rules these profiles break

Rule	Google's words	How the Star profiles break it
Real location	"Create your Business Profile for your actual, real-world location."	Addresses are a grocery store, senior center, apartments, a house and vacant buildings
Virtual offices	"...also known as a virtual office, that location isn't eligible for a Business Profile."	Cupertino (Pacific Workplaces) and Montclair (Regus)
Co-working	Requires "clear signage," customers received and staff during business hours	South San Francisco (Bonneville Labs lab co-working); Montclair
One profile	"There should only be one profile per business."	20 profiles, one website
Phone	"The phone number must be under the direct control of the business."	19 of 20 numbers appear nowhere outside Star's pages; a reviewer reports calls from other companies after calling
Lead generation	"Lead generation agents ... aren't eligible for a Business Profile."	The Ventura "lead funnel" review

California law the same profiles break

Law	What it says	Why it applies
Ins. Code §1800.75	No one may advertise or hold out as being in the bail bond business without all proper licenses	No license on file for "Star Bail"
Bus. & Prof. Code §17500	No untrue or misleading statements in advertising, including over the internet	Each profile advertises an office at an address where none exists
10 CCR §2066.5	Bail advertising under a fictitious name must show the true licensee, so no separate business appears to exist when the ownership is the same	20 "local" businesses, no licensee named

What I ask Google to do

- Review the 20 profiles as one network and remove them.
- Prevent the same operator from re-creating them under new names or addresses.
- Contact me with any questions. I can supply more records.
